1.1 RAW MATERIALS

The major raw material used in the production of furniture is chipboard while MDF and OSB boards are used for doors and other ancillary products.

The chipboards are directly pressed by our supplier in Europe to come out with gloss finish surface texture.

The material used by our supplier is produced from the finest raw materials mainly high quality de-barked wood. Compared to many other wood based materials, the chipboard has a higher bending strength, a higher perpendicular tensile strength and excellent screw holding properties. Its mechanical load bearing capacity and resistance are higher than those other materials in the wood industry. The materials come with higher aesthetic values, even fiber structure, optimum density profile and perfect surface quality.
